

BigFuture Days

Event Overview

What is BigFuture Days?

- The College Board is hosting four virtual college fairs that are designed for high school students to have real conversations with hundreds of colleges, admission reps, and current college students without leaving home.
- Each event will feature 150 – 220 institutions represented within the 4 regions.
- Students can select to attend as many events as they want.
- These events are free for students and their parents. Educators can attend as well.
